

The law firm of Nusinov Smith LLP, a leading provider of estate, trust and fiduciary litigation, planning and administration, is pleased to announce that it has relocated its office to 6225 Smith Avenue in Baltimore.

“Our recent move is another significant step to meet the needs associated with our firm’s continued growth and success,” said Jeffrey E. Nusinov, managing attorney of Nusinov Smith. “We cannot be more excited about the new location. The state-of-the-art, glass-enclosed building will give us the space we need to better serve our clients. Our new office is a better fit for the firm all around.”

Housing the firm’s eight attorneys and its paraprofessional staff, the office consists of nearly 6,000 square feet, featuring high-tech conference rooms and convenient client and visitor parking directly in front of the building.

Nusinov Smith, which changed its name from Fisher & Winner LLP to Nusinov Smith in 2015, was established over 100 years ago. The firm continues to concentrate in fiduciary and commercial litigation, while maintaining its long-standing commitment to exceptional service and professionalism in the areas of estate planning, and guardianship, estate and trust administration.
